

college but do not have the means to do so. In 1998, with the help of his sister Anna, Bernie established the Anna and Bernard Behrends Endowed Scholarship Fund. This scholarship has provided more than forty students with the opportunity to go to college since its creation. He has also been a pioneer for education through the founding of Logan County Voiture 985 of the Forty and Eight Nurses in Training Scholarship, which has helped over 150 students pursue careers in nursing through financial assistance.

All of these accomplishments are examples of Bernie's fervor for service and leadership to the Peoria community. Not surprisingly, Bernie is also a lifetime member of many recognizable organizations such as the American Legion, Forty and Eight, Veterans of Foreign Wars, American Veterans, Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks No. 91, Lincoln Masonic Lodge, Springfield Consistory, Ansar Shrine, Logan County Shrine, and the Legion of Honor.

As of today, there are no signs of Bernie curbing his service to Peoria. He continues to dedicate his time and energy to educational service by working with his sister to provide the necessary resources to the people of our community.

In summary, Madam Speaker, Bernie Behrends is an exceptional example of service and leadership in our community. His charity and commitment to serving those less fortunate than himself has been a hallmark of his life dedicated to being a man for others. Because educational opportunities are the foundation for future success, I believe Bernie's incredible charity to the people of central Illinois is something to be cherished and celebrated. I wish Mr. Behrends a very Happy 89th Birthday, and congratulate him on his continued legacy as a community leader.

A TRIBUTE TO JACQUELINE V.
NARINE

HON. EDOLPHUS TOWNS—

OF NEW YORK

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Thursday, June 17, 2010

Mr. TOWNS. Madam Speaker, I rise today in recognition of Jacqueline V. Narine for her many achievements in the health field.

Jacqueline V. Narine is a born and bred Brooklynite. She is the youngest daughter of the late Theodore and Marion Holmes. Educated in the New York City Public School system, she nurtured a desire to work in a hospital community. Jacqueline began in high school as a hospital volunteer and then moved onto an outstanding professional career within the New York City Health and Hospital Corporation.

In 1977, Jacqueline joined NYC Health and Hospital Corporation with the Finance Department at Cumberland Hospital as a Hospital Care Investigator. Her work style and commitment were soon acknowledged and she was promoted to Systems Analyst in Outpatient Billing. This phenomenal experience led to her position as the Assistant Director for Clinical Operations, with responsibilities in several different capacities at this North Brooklyn Health Network, including the oversight, management and budget for Ambulatory Care Services. However, the most significant aspect for Jacqueline and the key to great hospital care was always the effective and responsive care given to patients. Her impact was noticed by patients and staff.

Over the 32 years of service to the NYC Health and Hospital Corporation there have been challenges to patient care. Jacqueline and her colleagues have had to adapt to changing healthcare/managed care, decreased resources and the perpetual needs of the patients. The importance of working with the community you are serving to maintain efficiency has always been significant to Jacqueline. She has worked with the Community Advisory Board, the Auxiliary Board and the Reach Out and Read Program of Greater NY. Over the years she planned and coordinated many events. The community based event in 1996 "Bedford-Stuyvesant Resource Family Day" earned Jacqueline recognition from former New York City Public Advocate Mark Green.

Jacqueline is a fourth generation member of the Cornerstone Baptist Church in Brooklyn. She is active in the Business and Professional Women of Cornerstone Baptist Church. She is the Financial Secretary for the Bedford Section of the National Council of Negro Women Inc., member of the Senior Umbrella Network of Brooklyn, Unity Democratic Club and a lifetime member of the Jack and Jill of America, Inc., Brooklyn Chapter. Retirement will allow her the time to give generously to her family and her community.

Jacqueline has been a devoted wife for 36 years to Peter Narine and is the mother of Seth Ramjit Narine and Danielle Melissa Narine. It is scripture that guides her (Luke 12:48) "To whom much is given much is expected."

Madam Speaker, I urge my colleagues to join me in recognizing the achievements of Jacqueline V. Narine.

CONGRATULATIONS ON YOUR RETIREMENT JEFF KIMPEL

HON. DAN BOREN

OF OKLAHOMA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Mr. BOREN. Madam Speaker, I am here to congratulate Dr. James "Jeff" Kimpel, on his retirement after 13 years of federal service as director of NOAA's National Severe Storms Laboratory, NSSL, in Norman, Oklahoma. He has been active in advancing the Geosciences and Meteorology Program in the state of Oklahoma and throughout the nation.

His career spans not only the academic community, but government service as well. After graduating and earning graduate degrees from the University of Wisconsin, Dr. Kimpel joined the meteorological faculty at the University of Oklahoma, where he earned the rank of full professor and held several administrative positions which include dean of the College of Geosciences and provost and senior vice president of the Norman, Oklahoma campus and having the title of senior vice president of the Norman campus. He chaired both the National Science Foundation's Advisory Committee for Atmospheric Sciences and the Board of Trustees of the University Corporation for the Atmospheric Sciences.

Some of the prestigious positions that have been held by Dr. Kimpel include Assistant Professor for the Colleges of Arts and Sciences and Engineering at the University of Oklahoma, Norman campus where he was granted tenure. He later became the Associate Professor for the School of Meteorology followed by having the title of Emeritus Professor of Meteorology at the University of Oklahoma, Norman campus. Before coming to the University of Oklahoma, Dr. Kimpel held positions as research assistant at the University of Wisconsin, Madison and as a lecturer.

The NSSL is responsible for creating Doppler weather radar technology that has opened many doors and eventually led to the creation of the national NEXRAD, NEXt generation weather RADar, network which consisted of more than 160 radar systems. This has greatly reduced the number of fatalities that have been caused by tornadoes. During Dr. Kimpel's time there, NSSL conducted scientific and technological research that upgraded NEXRAD's systems.

Dr. Kimpel worked vigorously to launch the Multifunction Phased Array Radar initiative as a possible replacement in the future for NEXRAD. He has worked with the NWS Storm Prediction Center and the Norman Weather Forecast Office to create a Hazardous Weather Testbed to speed up the transition of new science into operational warning and forecasting decision processes. He has also expanded the NSSL's radar-based flash flood forecasting and water management programs into areas near the coast where inundation from land falling tropical storms, hurricanes and other inclement weather is possible.

Dr. James Kimpel has had a major impact throughout the state of Oklahoma, and I am proud to be from a state where he has contributed so much to protecting the lives of so many Americans through his work at the NSSL. I thank him and all Oklahomans and Americans.

A TRIBUTE TO DAVIS GAYLE, JR.

HON. EDOLPHUS TOWNS—

OF NEW YORK

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Mr. TOWNS. Madam Speaker, I rise today in recognition of Davis Gayle, Jr. for his contributions to the Brooklyn community.

Davis Gayle, Jr., the proprietor of Tropical Paradise Restaurant and Tropical Paradise Ballroom, is one of the most outstanding businesspeople in the Brooklyn area. Affectionately referred to as Junior, Gayle has distinguished himself and his establishment. With fierce entrepreneurial will and a genuine love for people, Junior has taken the business of restaurants to new heights and has transformed the Tropical Paradise franchise into a veritable cultural center.

Tropical Paradise Restaurant and Tropical Paradise Ballroom are located in the heart of the Utica Avenue metropolis. The restaurant opened on September 8, 2001 and offers a wide range of West Indian dishes. In addition to being frequented by top artists, Tropical Paradise is now well known in the community as a nurturing ground for new artists. The Tropical Paradise Ballroom opened on November 8, 2008. The large ballroom with its mirror walls and beautiful chandeliers has quickly become the "In place" for weddings, birthday parties, and community events.

Junior, American born of Honduran parentage, started in business in 1979 working in his father's meat market. He continued to learn and absorb all that he could about the business from his father while pursuing his own career path. In 1988, he joined the New York City Department of Corrections. As a corrections officer for 13 years, Junior worked the night shift at the Anna M. Kross Center, which is the largest correctional facility on Rikers Island. By day, he continued to help his father build one of the best known meat markets in Brooklyn.

By 1994, Junior was ready and fully prepared to take on business ownership for himself. Taking a leave of absence from the Department of Corrections, he opened the Avenue D Meat Market. This business continues to be one of the most successful in the area.

His love and concern for his community was evident in 1983 when Junior became an Auxiliary Police Officer at the 67th precinct. Now, as a restaurant owner, he continues to give back to the community. He does so by graciously supporting cultural events in the area by providing courtesy backstage catering. Every Christmas, Junior and Tropical Paradise produce a cultural show that has become a calendar event in the Brooklyn West Indian Community.

As a role model, Junior willingly shares his personal credo with young people. "Anything you desire in life can be achieved with hard work and education," he says. Junior's commitment to excellence and community service has been recognized and rewarded with several awards including the "Men of Distinction Award" from former State Senator Mary Markowitz in 2001 and a Community Service Award from New York Tabernacle Church.

Junior is married to Joanne Gayle and is the proud father of two daughters, Leonie and Jasmine.

Madam Speaker, I urge my colleagues to join me in recognizing the achievements of Davis Gayle, Jr.

Dr. Taylor received his B.A. in History from Northwestern University, Master's of Divinity in Theology and Church History, Master's of Philosophy in Church History and a Ph.D. in Church History from Union Theological Seminary in New York.

Recently he has formed a Bible Institute, which seeks to provide a pleasurable and informative encounter with the Word of God. Dr. Taylor also is an evangelist. In addition to outdoor services in the community surrounding the church, he preaches at many local congregations and has preached in churches from New York to Los Angeles. Dr. Taylor defines the focus of his ministry as "Progressive Pentecostalism," the attempt to

TRIBUTE TO WARREN BAKER

HON. KEVIN MCCARTHY

OF CALIFORNIA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Mr. MCCARTHY of California. Madam Speaker, I rise today to honor Warren J. Baker, an educational leader from San Luis Obispo, California, which I represent, on his retirement after nearly a half century of service to higher education, including the past 31 years as the President of California Polytechnic State University, San Luis Obispo, Cal Poly.

A geotechnical engineer by training, Warren has had many experiences that helped enhance his leadership abilities before joining Cal Poly as President, including teaching at the University of Detroit as a Chrysler Professor, and later serving as Dean of the College of Engineering and Vice President for Academic Affairs.

Warren became the Cal Poly President in 1979. Throughout his tenure, he initiated many improvements at the University, raising Cal Poly's profile, particularly in the fields of Architecture, Agriculture and Engineering. Under Warren's leadership, the educational opportunities of students significantly expanded with the addition of 20 new majors and 72 minors and 15 new master's degree programs. In addition, over this period Cal Poly established the Irrigation Training and Research Center, the Environmental Biotechnology Institute, the Dairy Products Technology Center, the Collaborative Agent Design Research Center, and the Brock Institute for Agricultural Communication. Throughout his tenure, Warren and his team found creative ways to support student success, including funding $1 billion in state-of-the-art laboratories, buildings and other facilities establishing Cal Poly as one of the nation's premier comprehensive polytechnic universities.

Always seeking to provide for Cal Poly's future, Warren's leadership of the University's first-ever comprehensive fundraising campaign was the most successful in the history of the California State University system. Cal Poly has the largest endowment among the CSU's 23 campuses. He also created the President's Cabinet where leaders from industry, government, and community act as an advisory board to help the University determine strategic educational and financial plans.

Perhaps Warren's most enduring contribution to Cal Poly's excellence has been his steadfast support for—and careful nurturing of—the University's renowned "learn-by-doing" educational experience, which attracts students from all around the country. This learning approach requires students to apply classroom theory to real-world problems. Employers from a broad array of America's most prestigious companies aggressively recruit Cal Poly students because they graduate with real-world experience and can contribute innovative solutions to complex problems.
